

2nd London Festival of Bulgarian Culture

Bulgaria Comes to London

1 - 30 November 2012

Saturday, November 3, 7.30pm

Cadogan Hall, 5 Sloane Terrace, London SW1X 9DQ

Bulgarian & British Symphonic Folk Songs

One of the leading Bulgarian symphony orchestras will be joined by two of the finest choirs from London schools: St Paul's Girls' School and James Allen's Girls' School, where Ralph Vaughan Williams briefly taught, for a rendition of his 'Folk Songs of the Four Seasons'.

The unique Bulgarian folk songs and dances are the inspiration for three of the greatest Bulgarian composers whose works will see their UK premieres in this concert.

Artists

Varna
Bulgarian
Symphony Orchestra

Paulina Voices
St. Paul's Girls' School

Holst Choir
James Allen's Girls' School

Martin Georgiev
conductor

Vania Vatalova - Stankov
soprano

Programme

Pancho Vladigerov 'Shumen' Miniatures (UK Premiere)

Vasil Kazandjiev Pictures from Bulgaria (selection) (UK Premiere)

Dimitar Nenov 'Rhodope' Folk Songs for soprano & orchestra (UK Premiere)

Ralph Vaughan Williams Folk Songs of the Four Seasons

Tickets £35, £25, £15, £10

Book at www.lfbc.eu, or call the box office on 020 7730 4500

Book the 'Festival Menu and tickets' offer on www.lfbc.eu, or phone 020 8992 1327

In partnership with Varna City Council

